ADDRESS ON IRELAND BY REV. MORROW

WAS GIVEN IN BAPTIST CHURCH
LAST THURSDAY -- GOOD CROWD IN ATTENDANCE AND
ADDRESS WAS THOROUGHLY ENJOYED.

In opening his address on "Ireland, Its Woe and Hope," at the Baptist church last Thursday evening Rev. J. W. Morrow said that just as one had to see the holy land in order to appreciate to the full the sayings and teachings of Jesus, he had come to see Ireland to appreciate its charms. However, as the speaker proceeded with his lecture he so vividly described the scenery of Ireland's lakes, rivers, harbors and landscapes, its soil and production, its industries and its people, its educational institutions and its politics, that all present felt they had been on an excursion to the Emerald Isle, and those who claimed to be of Irish descent were pained to hear of their ancestors.

The speaker reviewed the history of Ireland from its earliest days, pointing out that it blessed the trail in many lines of development. She had always been a seat of learning and had her schools and colleges when the natives of other countries were still going about in the skins of wild animals. In religion and missionary work she was always the first, and she had sent her missionaries to all parts of the world, to England, Scotland and Germany. Ireland's industrial development was due entirely to the brains, energy and enterprise of her people. In this connection he gave an interesting description of the process of manufacturing linen for which Ireland is noted, and spoke of the excellent work done by Irish men and women at the present time in the ship-building line. The speaker also referred to the ability of the Irish and to the important work of building up the British empire in all quarters of the world.

In dealing with Ireland's troubles the speaker said he must understand her industrial, social, religious and political conditions to understand her troubles. He maintained that the Emerald Isle was well treated by the Imperial parliament, and that she had a large representation in that parliament. He did not think it would be wise nor did it behoove her to ever consider allowing Ireland to become a republic. Mr. Morrow's reference to Irish history and the many incidents of its given were much enjoyed. Singers from Medicine Hat were expected to be present and furnish music during the evening. The plans miscarried and they were unable to get up in time. E. L. Stone, who acted as chairman for the evening, sang "A Irish Song" after which refreshments were served.

Bad Spring Flood At Medicine Hat

One of the worst floods in the history of Medicine Hat occurred last Monday as a result of the ice jamming at the Hedley Shaw railway bridge, when the water not being able to pass, overflowed the banks of the Seven Persons creek and flooded the southeast corner of the flat. The ice, owing to alternate freezing and thawing, was so thick when it broke up that it could not get under the bridge and piled up considerably higher than that that immediately. The inhabitants of the district were hurriedly removed by drays were caught underneath by the floods. The time, having time to take any of their household goods with them. Some went to the Corona Hotel, others took refuge in the Baptist church school, and still others spent the night with friends. As night drew on the velocity of the water was so great as to make walking impossible on the lower end of Columbia avenue, the roadway also being blocked with large cakes of ice.

"Two British seaplanes engaged five German machines over the North Sea, destroying one machine and downing another, it is officially announced. Both the British planes returned.

No. 2 Train Now Puts Mail Off Here

Commencing yesterday morning mail is now taken off and put on train No. 2, which passes through here at 7:10 a. m. Some time ago an agitation was started by the industries and merchants in town to have mail from the west put off this train as it was a source of great inconvenience to have it go through to the East and come back on the noon train. It also meant a great delay in the delivery of correspondence. The matter was brought to the attention of the C. P. R. divisional superintendent who said no change could be made at present. The Review then wrote to Hon. A. L. Sifton, our representative in the Federal government, pointing out that this train, although only a flag, stopped here every morning anyway to take on or let off passengers, and asking him to lay his grievance before the postmaster general. This our member did and in the course of a few days a change was made. The train now stops. No mail is put off this morning and morning and morning papers from a day to two days is saved in the receiving and answering of letters from the west.

Social Evening Held At The School

Last Friday evening the pupils and teachers from grades 9 to 11 met in the school and enjoyed a pleasant social evening. Games of various kinds were played, after which Lily Ockersang sang a song, and Corrie Ratliff gave a recitation, both of which were exceptionally well rendered. The event of the evening was an address on St. Patrick by Judson Gold. In a very able manner he reviewed the life and work of this patron saint, much to the entertainment of all present. During the evening refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening broke up about midnight.

Wilful Waste is Now a Crime

The following official statement was issued by the Canada food board: "Wilful waste of any food products resulting from the careless manner of storage or any avoidable cause, is now illegal and subject to heavy penalties. Municipalities are obliged to enforce this regulation within their respective municipal limits. An order-in-council has been passed embodying these provisions which were introduced by the cabinet minister and recommended to the cabinet council by the minister of agriculture." The Canada food board is given power under the order, if it has reason to believe that food in any warehouse, store, private home, building, premises, ship, railway car, or other conveyance, is likely to become unfit for human consumption, to require its immediate sale, or such other disposal as may prevent further deterioration or loss of the food. If the owner, or person controlling such food, upon receipt of such notice does not at once comply with the terms of the Canada food board's notice, the board may seize the food and sell it, or take such other action as it may deem necessary to prevent further loss or deterioration.

How to Send Parcels to Prisoners

The German authorities have issued a memorandum to the effect that parcels for prisoners of War interned in Germany must be addressed to the "Prisoner" (or main) camp of which the prisoners belong and must not bear the names of any branch or working camps or of any other place to which the prisoner might be detailed for special services. In the interests of the prisoners it is strongly recommended that the German authorities will not deliver the parcels to the prisoners of war for which they are intended, and it is suggested that Canadians in Canada when writing to prisoners in Germany should accurately define the name of the "prisoner" (or main) camp to which they are intended, and that they should also state the name of the German authorities in addressing parcels to prisoners.

WHEELER BLOCK DESTROYED BY FIRE IN EARLY MORNING

Building Total Loss -- About $21,000
Loss -- Hicks' Stock Saved But
Jacobson & Hughes Lose All --
Loss Partially Covered by Insurance -- Fireman Killeit Hurt

As a result of one of the worst fires which has visited Redcliff for some time the Wheeler block on the corner of Broadway and Third street is now a mass of ruins. Doing business in this block were the Hicks Trading Company, general merchandise, and Jacobson & Hughes, billiard room and cigar store. The total loss is estimated at about $21,000, made up as follows: Building $12,000; contents of Jacobson & Hughes store, $7,000; Hicks Trading Company, partial loss and damage, about $2,000.

The Wheeler block was owned by Mrs. H. O. Wheeler, wife of one of the founders of the town. She and her son, Mont, and they were unable to find whether there was any insurance on the building or not. Jacobson & Hughes carried $2,500 insurance and The Hicks Trading Company's stock was insured for about one-third of its value.

The exact cause of the fire is a mystery. It was first discovered by Robt. Black, who, when closing up his own shop, smelt smoke, and after going around the block noticed the smoke coming out over the fan light of both stores in the building. This was about five minutes to one this morning. He immediately awakened the proprietors of the stores, who live close by, and then sounded the alarm. The firemen were sent, and the scene and for a time it looked as though the firemen and other helpers had the blaze well in hand and confined to the Jacobson & Hughes store. The flames, however, had eaten their way into the partition and to the rafters between the metal ceiling and the roof. When they finally broke out the whole building was in flames and as the numerous windows and doors were quickly broken by the heat the draft drove the flames beyond all control. Owing to the construction of the building the enveloping of the roof made the most of the fire, and the flames were first seen spreading to the roof of the Hicks store, all present--men and women alike--got busy removing the goods, and strange as it may seem, almost every article in the store was deposited on the vacant lot on the opposite corner before the walls collapsed.

Food Hoarders Have Big Loss

A news report from Winnipeg says: "Controller Patten announced that last week a total of 5,000 pounds of chicken had been sent from a cold storage plant to the city incinerator and destroyed as unfit for human food. The chickens had been in the cold storage since October, 1916. It was estimated that in numbers the total destroyed was in the neighborhood of 3,000 birds. The board of control has decided upon immediate action. It instructed the secretary to communicate at once with Food Controller Thompson, at Ottawa, and demand an investigation. The probe may extend to all cold storage plants in the province to learn if other large quantities of poultry or other foodstuffs are being held in storage for long periods.

May Settle Soldiers Near a Railway

It is officially stated that no formal recommendations have as yet been submitted to the cabinet as to the setting aside of land areas in the west under the Soldiers' Settlement scheme. The matter is at present engaging the attention of Hon. Arthur Meighen, the members of the land settlement board, and the officials of the interior department. It is probable that the order-in-council when adopted for setting aside of homestead lands within 15 miles of the railway will be made. Most of the land available for settlement in the Peace River district and special provision will probably be made for that district where military facilities are lacking.

British airplanes dropped a ton of bombs on the German city of Mannheim on Monday, it was officially announced.

Rocky Mountain Goats Remember St. Patrick

On Saturday evening last the Irishmen of Redcliff were entertained at Crowe's hall by the Redcliff Herd, Rocky Mountain Goats, at an affair in which the most of the town were present. This is the first occasion upon which this day, so dear to the heart of every Irishman, has been fittingly celebrated here, owing to the fact that previously there had not been a sufficient number of native born Irish men and their descendants in our midst to do so.

The gathering was a thoroughly cosmopolitan one, the professional, social, mercantile and manufacturing interests of the town were all fully represented.

Mayor Bell presided, and after the usual patriotic toast to King and country, made an introductory address outlining the purpose of the gathering and urging all present to join together for the permanent good of Redcliff and to emulate the Irishmen in his smiling, cheerful attitude toward his environment.

The toast to the "Irishmen in Canada" was fittingly responded to by Mr. Stone, who made a stirring address upon what had been accomplished by the men from the Emerald Isle and instanced such examples as Dave, McGee, Shanney, Docherty, Devlin and many others who have been obtaining examples of accomplishment in every department of useful endeavor.

The toast to Ireland was taken care of by our own illustrious Michael Flanagan, who in an impassioned address of fifteen minutes, outlining the aims of the Nationalist party and cleared away many of the wrong impressions regarding that movement. He related with great feeling his personal contact with the recently deceased John Redmond, of whom he said an eulogy could be pronounced that would fully do justice to the great work he had done.

The evening was interspersed with songs and instrumental numbers contributed by Messrs. Thos. McKelvie, M. Wilson, E. L. Stone, Mayor Bell, F. J. Beecher, A. Learmonth and the mandolin and guitar.

In response to the toast to the "Goats" the speaker made a number of misapprehensions regarding the aims of the order, attempting, as it does, to direct effort along the line of a brighter outlook on things in general, and to get together just as "folks" without regard to creed, nationality or previous condition of employment. The organization has done much in Redcliff to uplift and brighten humanity, not in any pink tea or slay mass but in bringing together men as men.

Mayor B. J. Bell made the effort of the evening in his response to the toast to the "Rocky Mountain Goats." Our readers all know how the mayor works up to this subject and we need only say that when he was through the subject had been fully dealt with.

False Impression of R.F.C. is Corrected

Lt. MacNamara, the officer in charge of recruiting for the Royal Flying Corps in this district, has written, asking us to correct the false impressions held by many men who come under the Military Service Act, that they must wait until they have been drafted into a Depot Battalion before they can make application to join the R.F.C. On the contrary a man who is liable to draft should make application at once, in order that the necessary steps may be taken for his immediate enlistment into the Royal Flying Corps.

Further information may be obtained from the nearest representative, who is Mr. B. J. Bell, mayor of Redcliff.

The amount of land in the three prairie provinces prepared for the coming crop is 50 per cent. greater than last year. Not only is there this increase in the land that will be under cultivation, but it has all been planted in a much better way than in preceding years, said J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration, after an extensive tour of the west. Mr. Walker's tour was for the purpose of ascertaining the acreage likely to be under cultivation this year, and to look into the labor problem.

Log Bunk Co. is Working on The First Order

Although very little has been heard of it the International Log Bunk & Equipment Company, one of the new industries to start operations here, is now making good progress and is now working on a good order from a lumbering company in British Columbia.

The plant is not yet fully equipped with all the machinery necessary to turn out their goods as they intend doing but the order from B. C. is a rush one and the staff expects to be able to get it out on time with the present equipment.

The company has a number of large orders in sight and when the plant is in shape for handling them they expect to keep busy with a large staff. Additional machinery is now on the way and is expected to be installed and ready for the rush in July.

Boy Buys Marbles With Gold Nuggets

That a boy will do almost anything at this time of year in order to get a few marbles was clearly shown by one lad last week. The father of this lad had a watch chain made of gold nuggets and the boy had seen the marbles and decided to get them. He looked like easy marble getting to the boy, so he tried them off by one, as his marbles stood neck replenishing and the father, not at all interested in school where he experienced little difficulty effecting a swap. The boy was passed around from nugget to boy the marble market fluctuated, until finally the father noticed his much prized chain was growing shorter and shorter. He was so angry that he brought out the above facts and after some casting about most of the yellow lumps were again father's.

Compensation Act Before Legislature

The workmen's compensation act, which takes the place of the mine workmen's compensation act, was placed on the table of the legislature Tuesday afternoon. It provides for compensation of workmen under the operation of the act on August 1st of this year. The railway employees come under the operation of the act when determined by the Lieutenant-governor-in-council. Other industries will come under the act next January.

The provision of a compulsory state insurance and a compensation board, following closely the act of the United States, is the subject of investigation is generally regarded as low. When death results the compensation of the dependent will be $10 a month for the widow with $5 a month for children with a maximum of $2,500. In permanent total disability the payment shall be $10 per month with a maximum of $2,500. For partial permanent disability the allowance is graded, $100 being allowed for the loss of an arm, and $50 for a smaller portion, such as a toe, and other losses in proportion.

Germans Preparing For West Drive

Another of the reports of an impending German blow in the west appears in the Koelnische Zeitung. It says the German headquarters staff at the German embassy in Washington is held at Cologne, Berlin, Karlsruhe and Hanover, with representatives of the leading German press and the purpose of preparing the German press for operations on a great scale in the west.

CANADA GETS STRIP OF MINNESOTA LAND

Officials of St. Louis county, Minnesota, received word from the United States government that a Canadian boundary line dispute at the north end of that county had been settled by giving Canada a strip of timber land, formerly included in Minnesota's territory. The land lies between Lake Nami-can and Lake Lake and Virgin streets.

GET THE FISH.

In order to encourage a more general consumption of Pacific deep sea fish throughout the prairie provinces, so that beef and pork may be conserved for our allies and our sons in the trenches, the Canada Food Board has gone to considerable trouble and expense in trying to make it possible for these fish to be secured at a reasonable price by the consuming public. With this object in view the price at which these fish can be sold to the retail merchants has been fixed so as to allow the retail merchant a profit of 3c a pound over what it actually costs to have them delivered at his store. So far as Alberta is concerned this would mean that these fish could be retailed at 10c a pound.

This would mean comparatively cheap eating and should also have a tendency to accomplish the object for which the Food Board is aiming. The Review and our town council are asked to co-operate with the Board in trying to make this campaign a success.

On receipt of a letter from the Board this week asking us to do so, the Review made enquiries at our meat markets, and found that none of this fish was being handled here. One butcher shop said they couldn't get the fish and the other said the fish season was over and it wouldn't pay to take the risk of having part of the shipment spoil. Regarding the first reason we cannot see how that can be when the Food Board is soliciting the assistance of councils, boards of trades and newspapers, to get these fish put in every butcher shop in the province, and practically guarantee delivery of any amount.

As to the second reason, we might point out that according to the Food Board's circulars these fish are frozen and shipped in food boxes. Surely should be an easy matter for a dealer who is selling to the same customers week in and week out, to approximately estimate how many pounds of these fish he could dispose of say once a week. The objective of the Food Board is that at least one pound of fish a week should be consumed by every adult who can get them and we see no reason why Redcliff should not do its share in helping to make this possible.

MUST HAVE HELP.

Sir William Gooch, secretary of the British ministry of food, says: "Few people have yet grasped the fundamental fact that Great Britain still relies on the United States and Canada for sixty-five per cent of her essential foodstuffs. Unless we can get this food, or nearly all of it, we shall peter out."

St. Patrick's is given credit for doing a great many things and being a man of many parts. It is probably for this reason that the 17th of March is celebrated in many ways. Redcliff did honor to the patron saint by having a lecture, a banquet, a school concert and a dance. Any one here who couldn't fittingly observe the occasion must have been from Belfast.

A GOOD START.

The social evening held in the school last Friday evening surely is a step in the right direction.

In the past we have not had enough such gatherings but now that a start has been made it is hoped they will be continued. If the teachers have not time to assist and encourage the pupils in the formation of a literary or debating society then the older pupils might undertake it themselves. We feel sure the other business and professional men and women in town who only work ten and twelve hours a day would give them the necessary assistance and encouragement in this important branch of young pupils education.

When School Inspector Gorman was here on his last official visit he told the Review that this line of work was noticeably neglected in our school. This being the case some move should be made by some person or persons to improve matters.

Speaking of the recent flood in Medicine Hat the Calgary Herald says: "Seven Persons Creek, a muddy little stream that passes through Medicine Hat, had its annual dose of notoriety yesterday by flooding its banks and marooning the residents of about three hundred houses. Now for another year we shall not hear of it." What does the Herald mean by "it"? Seven Persons Creek or Medicine Hat?

Announcement of the arrival of a Canadian grain carrier from Vancouver via the Panama canal is made from a British port. On the same day we are told by the contractor for the Huron's Bay Railway that the line will be completed to that great inland sea by next fall. Thus appear two new outlets for Canada's western grain surplus.

The present session of the Federal parliament reminds us that even in war time we have something for which to be thankful. The faces of Hon. Frank Oliver and Hon. Robt. Rogers are missing in the seats of the majority.

Have you filled in your form for your income tax? It is not better to attend to it at once. Don't take any chances on that big fine and imprisonment.

Says Farmers Should

Test Seed Grain

The Department of Agriculture advises the careful testing of all kinds of seed grain in order to reduce the danger of light yields. Last year much grain that appeared plump tested very poorly and though there was not any general occurrence of frost in 1917 there may be low vitality in much of the seed grain from other causes. There is no excuse for neglecting such a fundamental precaution which can be taken with so little trouble. Seed tests may be either made at home or at official centres. They may be had from the following places: The Seed and Weed branch, Edmonton, the Provincial University, the Provincial Agricultural Schools at Olds, Claresholm and Vermilion and the Dominion Seed Branch, Calgary.

Over a hundred grains should be sent. Testing may be satisfactorily done at home with reasonable care. The best method of testing is in a dry soil. A box a foot square will contain ten rows each way an inch apart, giving 100 inches of sowing material at which to plant seeds. The soil should be put in an inch deep. The soil should be kept moist. The temperature should be that of a kitchen or comfortable living room, i.e., between 60 and 70 degrees. Seeds can be germinated quickly between two pieces of flannel or two sheets of blotting paper in a plate. Evaporation takes place quickly and water must be added frequently to keep the seeds moist. They must not be in water. The soil test shows better the variation in germination strength under fairly normal conditions.

A record should be kept of the numbers of plants showing in five and also in ten days, and the test should be

The report was adopted and ordered to be published in the Review. It will appear in our next issue. Of Air Medicine

Two hundred and fifty-five flights into Germany have been carried out by British aviators and only 10 machines have been lost, James Ian Macpherson, parliamentary secretary of state for the war office, announced in answer to a question in the house of commons as to the results of air raids in German territory.

More than a ton of bombs were dropped on Mannheim, March 18, he added.

Mr. Macpherson said eight direct hits had been obtained on the Hittische Soda-Fabrik at Mannheim. The British raiders were attacked by an enemy formation and two of the enemy machines were downed, the others being driven off. All the British returned.
